

Key elements

- FOP has a clean, uncluttered symmetrical look i.e. the space in the control area and surrounding the court is not full with officials, media or team officials or venue staff. The players become the focus.
- Fans have an unobstructed view of the action and of the players on the court, team benches or warm-up area.
- Production officials have priority positions along with fans for clear unobstructed view of the action on the FOP and of players on the court, as well on the team benches and warm-up areas.
- The warm-up areas can be placed according to the dimensions of the venue.
- A limit is set relating to number of photographers with access to the FOP to ensure the FOP does not become congested.
- Reduce the traffic of volunteers in the control area through vigilant management and access through appropriate accreditation system. Avoid unnecessary congestion of people loitering in this area during the match (only officials or volunteers on duty for the current match should have access to the control area).
- Designated area should be identified adjacent to the FOP to conduct post match interviews.
- Between LED perimeter boards and first row of fans the floor should be branded or have a contrasting colour to compliment the FOP.
- Theatre lighting dimmed on the fans in the stand whilst the court has 2000 lux lighting on the FOP to focus the attention on the action and the players.
